NEGRO HELD FOR CAPITAL CRIME

Girl Attacked While on Broad Street Road With Her Little Brother.

SCREAMS SAVED HER LIFE

Victim Too Ill to Identify Richard Quales, Who May Go to Death Chair.

Charged with attempted criminal assault upon Miss Maggie Robinson, an eighteen-year-old white girl residing in Scott's Addition, in the western section of the city, Richard Quales, a young colored man, was lodged in the Henric county jail yesterday without bail. The crime is alleged to have taken place at 11 o'clock Wednesday night on a deserted section of the Broad Street road, near the western limits of the city.

News of the assault was telephoned yesterday morning to Jailer Garrett by County Officer J. J. Connelley, who resides in the neighborhood. It supplied the authorities with a description of the man, and his arrest followed a few hours later. The negro was carried to the county jail at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, and will be kept there pending positive identification by the young woman.

According to the story told by Miss Robinson and an eight-year-old brother who accompanied her, they were on their way home after a visit to a friend in the neighborhood, when a negro jumped from concealment by the roadside and attacked her. A struggle ensued, in the course of which the young woman was thrown to the ground and otherwise abused. Her screams for help, it seems, frightened her assailant, who gave up his attack and fled.
